

From: Charlie Reiman
To: Microsoft ATR
Date: 1/24/02 1:55pm
Subject: Microsoft Settlement

I have read Scott Rosenberg's article in Salon, and I agree with him. Without an open API to allow for free competition in the OS area, we will never have any competition. While it is true this will cost MS intellectual property, it still seems fair as they have violated previous court efforts to tame their behavior. Taking their money won't even make MS bat an eye. Taking their IP will get their attention and allow for real competition.

Charlie Reiman
1404 Carmelita Ave.
Burlingame CA 94010